

How to Use the Gallery

Home ▾ Galleries ▾ Landscapes - North America

Prev 1 2 Next

Landscapes - North America album

Click and drag to make thumbnails bigger or smaller

Share this gallery on social media

Click Prev, Next, or a page number to see other thumbnails in this gallery

Click icon to expand to FULL SCREEN.
Click again or press Esc to exit full screen mode.

Click and drag scroll bar to see more thumbnails.

Click a thumbnail to show that picture.
(Slideshow will start up automatically from there.)

The currently displayed "album" is highlighted. (At this point, each gallery has only one album.)

The North American landscape in ... castels, as noted.

The interface shows a grid of landscape thumbnails. The central thumbnail is highlighted with a blue border. A dark grey bar at the bottom contains a larger version of the highlighted thumbnail. The top navigation bar includes a breadcrumb trail, social media icons, and navigation controls. A vertical scrollbar is on the right side of the gallery grid.

How to Manage the Slideshow

Home ▾ Galleries ▾ Landscapes - North America

3sec flash

Time each picture stays on screen

Back to thumbnail page for this gallery

Slide transition (Default is "fade")

Start/pause slideshow

Share or email this picture

For BEST VIEWING, click this icon to go to FULL SCREEN mode. Click again or press Esc to exit full screen mode.

Back to Galleries

Previous slide

Next slide

Go to FULL SCREEN mode to keep the description from cutting off the bottom of the picture.

Click picture or magnifying glass to open the full size image in a pop-up window

4 / 43

Previous thumbnails

Click thumbnail to jump to specific picture

"Chimney Rock"
Sequoia/Kings Canyon National Park, California, USA
24x18" - soft pastel

Next thumbnails

Detailed description: This image is a screenshot of a web gallery interface. At the top, there are navigation links: 'Home', 'Galleries', and 'Landscapes - North America'. Below these are icons for a folder, printer, and share. The main interface features a central large image of a landscape (Chimney Rock) with a semi-transparent control bar overlaid. This bar contains a back arrow, a left arrow, a timer set to '3sec', a dropdown menu showing 'flash', a play/pause button, and social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, and Email. Annotations with blue arrows point to these controls, explaining their functions: 'Back to Galleries', 'Back to thumbnail page for this gallery', 'Time each picture stays on screen', 'Slide transition (Default is "fade")', 'Start/pause slideshow', and 'Share or email this picture'. A callout box explains that clicking the play/pause icon enters 'FULL SCREEN' mode, which is recommended for 'BEST VIEWING' and can be exited by clicking the icon again or pressing the 'Esc' key. Below the main image, there are left and right navigation arrows labeled 'Previous slide' and 'Next slide'. A callout box notes that going to full screen mode prevents the description from being cut off at the bottom. At the bottom of the main image area, there is a magnifying glass icon with an annotation: 'Click picture or magnifying glass to open the full size image in a pop-up window'. Below the main image is a description: '"Chimney Rock" Sequoia/Kings Canyon National Park, California, USA 24x18" - soft pastel'. At the very bottom, there is a thumbnail strip showing a sequence of 43 images, with the current image highlighted. Annotations point to the 'Previous thumbnails' and 'Next thumbnails' on either side of the current image in the strip.